MATHILDA family

design Patricia Urquiola, 2018

The Mathilda collection by Patricia Urquiola finds new versions, proposing a dining table, an armchair and two types of stools in different heights. The products all feature a coloured band which connects the structural elements to each other, creating, by overlapping, a colour game on materials, textures and colours. The armchair and stool derive their form and flow from the easy chair, while altering its dimensions, proportions, heights, thicknesses and depths. The top of the all-wood table is held up by two trestles.
