The image shows a close-up of a grey, textured surface, possibly a piece of furniture or a wall. A horizontal seam or joint runs across the middle. On the left side, there is a rectangular inset or panel that is slightly recessed and has a different texture or color, appearing lighter and more uniform. The main surface has a mottled, speckled appearance with some darker spots and a fine, grainy texture.

ASCEND Bruce Rowe

Born in 1971, Rowe lives and works in Melbourne, Australia. He is the founder and Creative Director of the Anchor Ceramics studio, recognised as a contributor to contemporary ceramic art and design practice.

Rowe's sculptures are one-off, highly resolved, geometric slab built constructions. The clay bodies and surface finishes offer a gentle colour palette that enriches their tonal depth. The source of the work is inherently connected to Rowe's direct architectural, material, sensorial and spatial experiences.

Rowe continues his exploration of haptics and form in ASCEND. Whilst the works are technically careful and highly resolved they have a paradoxically poetic resonance. Offering multiple viewpoints, the works include stairs, voids, gateways, bridges, corridors and paths of various scale. Rowe's intimate artworks invites the viewer to look closely, cross thresholds and to be curious about the mysterious and unknowable. They suggest ever changing movement toward a source or beginning.

Rowe's process is intuitive, contemplative and rhythmic. A dialogue with clay, his sculptures radiate structural skill and presence. Yet each work also involves thoughtful planning and technical execution in its construction and realisation. Sculpture has an inherent connection with time and the works in ASCEND have required more than a year to complete in the studio. All works in ASCEND are authenticated and signed. Each work is unique, hand built and custom glazed.

Hub has partnered with Rowe to exhibit Structures I, Structures II and present SCAPE Series I. Hub and The Hub General Store exhibits ASCEND in Melbourne from 18 May – 15 June 2018.
